

THE OMAHA BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS. OFFICE NO. 12 PEARL STREET.

Delivered by carrier in any part of the city. H. W. HILTON, MANAGER. TELEPHONES: BUSINESS OFFICE, NO. 42. NIGHT EDITOR, NO. 28.

MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. P. Co. Council Bluffs Lumber Co., Inc. The best lots and hay to be had at S. Goldstein's, 1222 Lower Broadway.

The ladies are requested to return unsold Chautauque season tickets at once to Mrs. J. E. Harkness, No. 312 First avenue, with reports and funds from tickets sold.

Chris Hansen was arrested yesterday by Captain Marten for keeping his saloon open on Sunday. He put up $20 for his appearance this morning to answer to the charge.

A. G. Carey, A. E. Brown and John Beem were three young men from Omaha, who were found painting the town at an early hour yesterday morning, and were run in as suspicious characters.

The stone work on the new hotel was continued yesterday without interruption, as the Council Brothers are anxious to complete their work as soon as possible, their contract expiring in thirty days.

The council will not be put to any expense to remove one of the small lamp posts that was located at the corner of Willow avenue and Eleventh street, and a runaway collided with it yesterday and laid it low. The damage to the vehicle was trifling.

George Groneweg was arrested late Saturday night on the charge of insulting a lady. The complaining witness was Mrs. Meady, who was on the Broadway street car when she was taken to the station where he speedily arranged a bond of $50 for his appearance for trial this morning.

The Model baseball club went to Neola yesterday and were defeated to the tune of 11 to 10. During the game the Model's pitcher, Frank Nivell, attempted to stop a ball that was batted directly to him. He caught it on his left thumb in such a manner that the bone was broken and forced through the skin, making a very ugly wound. He fainted in the hall, however, and threw out the matter at first. The loss of the game was attributable to the necessary change of pitchers.

One of George Meschenor's drivers turned his horse loose on Broadway yesterday morning and ordered them to go to the stable. They started on a dead run, but were stopped by a policeman and taken to the pound. The horse was then taken to the stable.

The horse that was batted directly to him, he stated that he frequently sent the horses home that way and they would not have caught it. He said that he had seen the horse and the team was turned over to him. Mr. Meschenor offered to settle the bill of costs if there was any.

We stepped on their toes, but who cares? The People's installment house will furnish four houses from top to bottom with the very latest designs and styles of house furniture, goods at reasonable prices, for cash or on weekly or monthly payments, 320 Broadway.

For Sale—Horses and Mules. Just received 30 heavy work mules and 10 draft and work horses. Call Paul Bonquette & Co., livery and stable, No. 604 Broadway, opposite P. O., Council Bluffs.

Finest photo gallery in the west—Sherraden's new place, 43 and 45 Main street.

Scott house, Council Bluffs; $1 a day. If you want the best Wall paper go to J. D. Crockwell's.

Hon. Joseph Lyman Rees the End. Hon. Joseph Lyman, ex-congressman from this district, is falling rapidly and can live but a very short time. He has been losing strength for some time and his pain has rendered him utterly helpless. For months he has been apparently in a decline, but the sudden change for the worse was about three weeks ago, when he went to Omaha one day and did not know where he was or how he got there. His friends here missed him and a search was instituted which resulted in finding him at the hotel in Omaha, where he was with his hat and coat on and unable to tell who he was or anything about himself. Since that time he has declined rapidly and his mental faculties have become seriously impaired. He has recognized very few of his friends, and has talked very disconnectedly. Notwithstanding the fact that his wife, Mrs. Maerac, warned him several weeks ago that absolute rest was his only safety, he remained at his legal work until compelled to give it up yesterday morning. He sank into a comatose state, and was unconscious during the entire day. He was unable to take any nourishment whatever, and at evening was reported to be dying. His attack is supposed to be paralysis, the first stroke having been sustained in Washington two years ago, and another shortly thereafter. His wife, Mrs. Maerac, who is building some new houses for 'Squire Schurz, and who had been arrested during the day for drunkenness, their demand to have a bond prepared was not complied with, and as they left the station they were expressing their opinion of things in general and the police force, in particular, in anything but complimentary terms, when Chief Cary arrested one of them and Captain Clough leveled on the other and they were locked up. They sent a messenger to Judge McGee, who immediately telephoned the marshal to release them. As soon as they were outside the building they again began to air their views—this time regarding Chief Cary and his financial affairs. They were so full of spite and spite did not like to hear, and he promptly shoved them behind the bars again. Marshal Templeton immediately released them again, and they were again outside the building. They did not until they promised to be on hand this morning and tell some more of the things they know. The boys are scarcely out of their wits, but their students. They will conduct their own defenses and there will undoubtedly be fun when the cases are called. They were undoubtedly too 'monthly' in their questions, and decided whether or not the chief of police is justified in locking up everybody who begins an oral review of his past record.

They Talked Too Much. Emil and Herman sons of Justice Schurz, visited the police station last evening to secure the release of a carpenter, H. B. Mitchell, who is building some new houses for 'Squire Schurz, and who had been arrested during the day for drunkenness, their demand to have a bond prepared was not complied with, and as they left the station they were expressing their opinion of things in general and the police force, in particular, in anything but complimentary terms, when Chief Cary arrested one of them and Captain Clough leveled on the other and they were locked up. They sent a messenger to Judge McGee, who immediately telephoned the marshal to release them. As soon as they were outside the building they again began to air their views—this time regarding Chief Cary and his financial affairs. They were so full of spite and spite did not like to hear, and he promptly shoved them behind the bars again. Marshal Templeton immediately released them again, and they were again outside the building. They did not until they promised to be on hand this morning and tell some more of the things they know. The boys are scarcely out of their wits, but their students. They will conduct their own defenses and there will undoubtedly be fun when the cases are called. They were undoubtedly too 'monthly' in their questions, and decided whether or not the chief of police is justified in locking up everybody who begins an oral review of his past record.

Before furnishing your house this season look at the chamber suits at Mandel & Klein's, 320 Broadway.

DRESS GOODS SALE. We will place on our counters for Monday and this week bargains in dress goods such as never can be again duplicated at such prices.

At 12 1/2c a YARD. 40-inch haw line stripes, in mixtures only, former price 25c.

40-inch pin head checked suitings, former price 19c.

36-inch side band, in illuminated mixtures, former price 25c.

36-inch haw stripes, in all colors, former price 17c.

36-inch English cashmeres, former price 25c.

Also odds and ends that sold as high as 50c, all at our 12 1/2c a yard.

At 10c a yard. All our mohair brillianlines that sold from 25c to 50c in a full line of solid colors and mixtures.

At 25c a yard. All wool suitings 36 in. wide, in stripes, plaid, blue and a wide variety of coloreds.

The above goods sold from 30c to 28c.

At 30c a yard. We have put all our 45c, 50c and 55c goods in at 30c. A full range of coloreds in brillianlines on solid colors, mixtures and black; also our all wool black and colored broad and narrow. We have also added to the list 15 pieces of 38-inch black and white brillianlines in check, haw line stripes and broken stripes, all at 30c.

At 30c a STORE. Fotheringham, Whitelaw & Co., Leaders and Promoters of Low Prices, All Lowest Prices.

The Sunday Closing Fight Renewed. Fritz Bernhardt is the greatest barber in Council Bluffs. A year ago he made a long and bitter fight against his Sunday closing brothers, but they outnumbered him ever-whelmingly and he was obliged to succumb. This year he is up and at it again. A week ago he was arrested for keeping open on Sunday in violation of the law, and not yet come home from confinement after it has been issued. It is just the same as that it is about getting sick—it is easier to prevent it than it is to get well, even if your illness is not necessarily fatal. It is one of the cases, where an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. There is no use, however, in crying over spilt milk, and we must get to work to prevent it. The function dissolved. We have secured the services of Finley Burko, esq., to assist Mr. Stewart in the case and we will get a hearing in the court as soon as possible. As far as second avenue is concerned, we had no intention of having that paved this year anyway, as it will be impossible to do all the work desired this season and what street ought to be sewered before the paving is laid. There is not the slightest reason why those other streets should not be paved this year, and we propose to pave them. That is one of the finest residence quarters in the city and the property there is very valuable. Paving would increase its value and the property owners are well able to pay for it. The majority of the property owners on all of those streets want the streets paved, and it is only a very few who are objecting to it. Even those who want paved streets, but they want other folks to pay for it, and are trying to have the season's paving done on streets where the property owners are less able to pay for it than they are themselves. This talk about the city's bonded indebtedness exceeding the constitutional limit is all nonsense. The society has been divided into two for it. Our present bonded indebtedness is $147,000, which is less than half what it might be, and still be within the limit. Even if we had an assessed valuation of $6,000,000, and the 5 per cent limit would allow us a bonded indebtedness of $300,000. Those folks who are trying to put the limit in the special assessment bonds which held the property for the cost of the improvements. There isn't a particle of sense in trying to support such a proposition. The court holds that this does not properly come under the law fixing the limit at 5 per cent of the assessed valuation. This limit about exceeding the limit is only heard here on the outside, but on the contrary our bonds are in great demand and sell at a premium of 1 1/2 per cent. That shows what our credit is, and it ought to make these croakers here at once ashamed of themselves. Our plan of pushing our public improvements has helped the city wonderfully in the past two or three years, and it has not only stimulated all kinds of business and braced up real estate prices, but it has increased our credit, and brought in large amounts of outside capital. The only question to decide is whether the city shall continue in its progress or shall be given to the croakers and their associates a stop put to all further growth and improvement.

A Lie Nailed. Our would-be competitors, who croak for trade, and are sitting around idle when the People's installment house is busy, circulate to the public that we handle second hand goods. That settles the matter. We handle whole cloth. Jealousy gets away with their judgment because we do the bulk of the business, so their statements should be taken with a grain of salt. Respectfully, THE PEOPLE'S INSTALLMENT HOUSE Mandel & Klein Proprietors, 320 Broadway.

Terrible Slaughter in Prices at Cully's. We will place on sale our entire stock of fine dress goods at prices that have never been offered before in the history of Council Bluffs, and you will probably never have such a chance again. The goods must go. Our loss is your gain. Call and satisfy yourselves as to the bargains.

Needed Changes in City Lighting. The city lighting is being done at present according to the Chicago electric schedule, and the result is that the electric lights are turned on fully an hour before dark and are shut off that much too early in the morning. Under the old contract a difference of half an hour was made for the difference in longitude but under the new one this difference is not made, which renders the street lighting less satisfactory than it might be. The present contract with the Chicago Electric Light Co. is a long one, and it is a matter of oversight and a little attention on the part of the council would remedy it. A half hour's additional lighting can be secured without any additional cost, and the failure of the connection that demands the attention of the council is rather imperfect in its workings. The trouble is caused by the failure of the luminary to put in an appearance on all occasions called for by the bills. The contract with the Chicago Electric Light Co. provides that no lights shall be turned on on these occasions and all is well when the moon makes all connections on schedule time, but on nights when the moon is behind clouds, the Chicago Electric Light Co. is not to be held responsible. Last year there was an arrangement by which the captain of the night police was instructed to order the lights turned on whenever the clouds were so heavy and the weather is such as to warrant it. A renewal of such an arrangement would give general satisfaction and insure well-lighted streets at all times.

The gasoline stove is more dangerous than the unloaded gun. Save life and property by using the C. B. Gas and Electric Light Co.'s gas stove.

A Pleasant Sunday. Yesterday was a phenomenally beautiful day and the people generally took advantage of it to get outdoors. Travel on the motor lines was heavier than it has been for many Sundays past. Apparently as many people visited Omaha as came this way to the hotels and freedom of our parks. The Fairmount park line was taxed to about its full capacity, and from early morning until late in the day the great park was filled with visitors.

The accommodations in Bayliss park proved to be entirely inadequate for the crowds that poured in and out all day. There were but few moments during the day when a vacant seat could be seen. If the park had double the number of seats they would be insufficient to supply the demand on a pleasant Sabbath day. The new fountain was an object of great interest to the strangers.

The crowd at Manawa was the greatest of the season, and a very pleasant day was enjoyed by all. There were no accidents, and one of them that drew a large attendance was the grand prize shooting match of the month. It was the property of the season for the society, and the gentlemen were out in full force, many being from Omaha, Lincoln, Plattsmouth and other cities.

If you wish to sell your property call on the Judd & Wells Co., C. B. Judd president, 606 Broadway.

Practical Christianity. The attendance at the churches yesterday was very large, especially at the morning services. The largest congregation for many weeks was present at the Broadway Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. D. C. Franklin, occupied the pulpit both morning and evening. At the morning hour he preached one of his characteristic practical sermons. It was a strong appeal for earnest, practical Christianity work.

The Fourth league held a meeting at 7:30. Waterworks 816 N. Y. Plumbing Co. Good paper hangers at Crockwell's.

SOME NEW BOOKS. "History of the Girty's." By Conneli Willshire Butterfield, author of "Historical Account of the Expedition against Sauskey and Colonel William Crawford in 1782." Robert Clarke & Co., Cincinnati.

The student of American history will miss much that is most romantic as well as most tragical in the early annals which overlooks the events, some of them of a very stirring character, which occurred in the trans-Allegheny country during the last half of the eighteenth century. The efforts to extend white settlements in that region and to render secure the struggle against hostile Indians were a constant struggle against the increase of the unexplored west went forth not only to encounter the severest hardships and privations, but to face death in almost every form. The lives of thousands of them were sacrificed to lay the foundations of what is now an imperial domain, abandoning in the process their families and all that they had. The narrative of these events cannot but be filled with wonder at the marvelous courage and fortitude of the people who sought to make homes for themselves west of the Alleghenies, and while conceiving the highest admiration for the heroic pioneers he will be appalled by the incidents of pitiless and bloodthirsty cruelty on the part of the Indians. The savages were, however, not wholly responsible for all the terrible deeds of slaughter and rapine which history places to their credit. They were the instigation and aid of white men no less savage in nature than themselves, and conspicuous among these was a family of Girty's, consisting of four brothers, Simon, Thomas, James and George, who, with a half brother, John Turner, contributed more than any other five men to the history of that period in the west. The career of these brothers and a particularly of Simon, has furnished an attractive theme for several writers, but it appears to have remained for Mr. Butterfield to supply an accurate narrative of the tragically romantic lives of these men, and to show them in their true relations to the history of the west. His biography and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of these as were erroneous should be corrected, and that the true history, both biographical and historical in character, presented in the performance of this task Mr. Butterfield had access to the original documents and authorities which were not available to preceding historians and the facts in which are laid out in the history, in the interest of the truth of the history. They contain many interesting statements published concerning the Girty's, and he felt it to be important that such of